Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with $65,000 Farm.

One of the largest real estate deals consummated in this section in some time was made yesterday when Dr. S. O. Eades of this city, sold his magnificent farm on the Danville pike, just beyond Cove Spring, to Mr. A. E. Hundley, of Danville. The consideration was $50,000. The farm contains 387 acres, which makes the price per acre about $130.

Mr. Hundley also bought yesterday the farm of Mr. S. O. Milton, which adjoins the Dr. Eades farm, at $115 per acre. This farm contains 113 acres. The total price paid by Mr. Hundley for the two places was $65,500, and makes a tract of 500 acres. Dr. Eades bought the place from Mr. Hundley three years ago for $48,000. It is one of the best farms in the Blue Grass section and is in a high state of cultivation. Dr. Eades has just about completed sowing 100 acres of it in wheat. The Milton tract is also a very fine farm and in an excellent condition. Both contain modern homes and splendid outbuildings.

It is understood that Mr. Hundley bought the two farms for his son, Mr. Guy Hundley, and will present them to him tomorrow as a bridal present. His son will be married in Danville tomorrow to Miss Eliza Jones, of that place. Miss Jones is said to be quite wealthy.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Strange Happening.

A most singular phenomena was witnessed last Thursday on the farm of Mr. Andy Lawson, on the Fallis Run pike, in the west end of the county. Owing to the continuous drought the ponds and wells on Mr. Lawson's farm had gone dry and he was driving his stock to water and was getting drinking water just anywhere that commodity might be found, when to his amazement and great joy on the day mentioned, a spring broke out on his place near the pike, running an abundance of the clearest and finest of water and forming a branch through his farm. The strange part of the matter is that even in the wettest weather no indications of a stream being near this place was ever observed. Mr. Lawson is overjoyed and has gone about the neighborhood telling everybody of the spring and that he now has plenty of water and is inviting everybody to come and help themselves.—Harrodsburg Herald.

LEBANON LOCALS

(From The Leader).

Mrs. Sam Porter Walston, died at her home near Riley last Saturday of consumption. Her remains were laid to rest Sunday afternoon in Ryder cemetery after services at the house. Besides her husband, she is survived by several children.

Miss Teresa B. Blandford, of Louisville, and Mr. Martin J. Mudd, of St. Mary's neighborhood, were married in Louisville Tuesday. Miss Blandford is a pretty attractive young lady and formerly lived in this county. Mr. Mudd is a popular young farmer, and well connected in this county.

Miss Cassie Purdy, the 18 year old daughter of Mr. Tom Purdy, died at the home of her father, near Bradfordsville, Thursday of consumption. The funeral services were conducted at Old Liberty last Friday, by Rev. Montgomery, of the Christian church.

Quite a number of business houses are now supplied with telephones and the tinkling of the little bell sounds like music, after so long a silence. The boxes are being put in as fast as the force can install them and it will not be long now until the system is complete.

Frank Shively, a colored boy about seventeen years old, was tried for pointing a deadly weapon at one James McElroy, also of color. It seems that both youths are enamored of the same dusky damsel and the trouble occurred while returning from a dance last Thursday night. After hearing the testimony of a large number of witnesses, a fine of $50 was imposed.

A JEWELER'S EXPERIENCE.

C. R. Iuger, The Jeweler, 1050 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed.

DR. D. W GADDIE

The Republican Candidate for Congress Makes a Fine Impression in a Speech Here.

Dr. David W. Gaddie, the Republican candidate for Representative in Congress from the Fourth district spoke to an appreciative audience composed of Republicans and Democrats. It was the first time Dr. Gaddie had ever made a political speech before a Washington county audience and the impression he made on those who heard his speech was a good one and portends well for his success with the voters of this county on next Tuesday.

The speaker devoted the greater part of his time to the discussion of national questions and showed by his familiarity with the great national questions that Dr. Gaddie is a student of civil government and statesmanship. He defended the republican party's attitude on the tariff and showed clearly that a protective tariff means the prosperity of American industries and consequently good wages to the American workingman.

Dr. Gaddie ridiculed the attitude certain Democratic leaders have assumed toward the negro voter. He called to the mind of the colored brother the fact that his liberty and every privilege and advantage that he now enjoys are results of Republican legislation and friendship and not Democratic; that never before has the Democratic party sought the colored vote and only because of the dire need of votes is the colored brother courted at all by the Democrats. The colored race has been a stench in the nostrils of the Democrat party until this campaign and "now he smells good" to the Democratic candidate, but when after the colored brother has cast his vote he will be as carion to his erstwhile Democratic friends.

Dr. Gaddie paid his respects to his opponent, Hon. Ben Johnson, and declared that Mr. Johnson had taken the job of conducting the State campaign when there are a score or more Democratic leaders in the State who are not candidates for office and who were fully as capable of conducting the campaign as Mr. Johnson. He intimated that Mr. Johnson had no desire to discuss the issues on the campaign from the stump and so accepted the job on the campaign committee in order to avoid meeting his opponent for Congress on the stump. Dr. Gaddie said that he had been criticised and misquoted for his reference to Mr Johnson's liberal contributions to the churches of the Fourth Congressional district which contributions were strange to say made during Mr. Johnson's campaign for votes. He said that he knew of no better way to explain his attitude on that question than to read a letter which he had written to a lady in response to an invitation from her for a contribution for her church. The letter in full is as follows:

Hodgenville. Ky, Sept 26.
Miss Grace Tabb,
Summit, Ky.
My dear Miss Tabb:

I am in receipt of yours of recent date stating that your people had suffered a loss by fire destroying your church and asking me for a contribution to aid in rebuilding same. Now I wish to most respectfully say that I am in sympathy in every sense of the word with every move that tends to the upbuilding of the Master's Cause and have always delighted to give my means toward this, but I do not beleive that any candidate for office should contribute to so sacred a cause, as it would justly be considered a bid for votes and as a move to pull the Church of God into politics. I honestly think that the Church should remain sacred to the cause of Christ and to the upbuilding of His Kingdom. In my opinion any candidate who gives a dollar to a Church beyond the ordinary donation he makes when not a candidate, does so for the purpose of obtaining the votes of men. Now I will take great pleasure in again opening a correspondence with you after the election, whether I win or lose, and at a time when my motives can not be questioned and when I can say to Him: "From whom all Blessings flow", that I am giving because "I love thy Kingdom Lord."

I have heard of a distinguished candidate who has behind him and within his reach, a vast sum of money, giving promiscuously to the churches of his district. It is not for me to say what prompts him to this great liberality but I beleive it is the duty of Christian people, of all denominations to look well to a man's motives before accepting donations.

It is indeed noble of you to take an active interest in behalf of your church. Again let me say to you that I hope to confer with you after the 3rd of November. Trusting that you and the other good people of your church may fully appreciate my position and beleive in my sincerity of purpose, I am Very truly yours,

D. W. GADDIE.

BIG AND BROAD.

Methodists Indorse the Candidacy of William H. Taft.

An unqualified approval of William H. Taft as a presidential candidate was given by the Rev. James Coote, D. D., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Thompsonville, Conn., when he called at the headquarters of the Republican national committee. For years Dr. Coote has taken a prominent part in Methodist circles in New England and in New York, having been a presiding elder and occupied leading pulpits.

"No man has spoken so earnestly in favor of the great work that Christian missions are doing in the Philippines, in China and in the orient generally as Mr. Taft," said Mr. Coote. "In an address at Yale university he emphasized that idea particularly, and on several other occasions he spoke enthusiastically of the good being done by aggressive Christian evangelicalism in the different countries which he visited. It seems to me that no evangelical Christian should hesitate to support Judge Taft. He is just as big and broad in his religious ideas as he is in his physical proportions. He can be trusted to do what is fair and right with all denominations.

"I am convinced that what Judge Taft has said on religious matters was not for political effect. He has gone hither and thither doing the work before him, and at the same time his keen observation and his sense of fairness have led him repeatedly to give expression to his appreciation of the work of Christian missions everywhere.

"In Thompsonville is one of the largest carpet manufacturing plants in the world," continued Dr. Coote. "During the last Democratic administration that establishment was compelled to close, and the thousands of employees were thrown out of work. A very large proportion of those had to leave the town. My observation is that the people in that section of the country remember that experience and that they do not care for another administration that is likely to result so disastrously."

A GOOD TIME

Enjoyed by Everybody at the Reunion at Squire Hendren's Place on Saturday last.

A crowd variously estimated at from 1,000 to 1,500 people spent the day on last Saturday in the grove at Squire Nimrod Hendren's place near Willisburg. The occasion was a general reunion and picnic of the old soldiers of the Blue and the Gray, the Mexican veterans and the Spanish American war veterans. The members of the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Ladies of the G. A. R. were also represented.

A speakers stand had been erected in the beautiful grove and preparations were made for serving a bountiful dinner which had been provided by the good housewives of the neighborhood. A brass band was in attendance and enlivened the occasion with military airs and other popular tunes. The morning was spent in social intercourse and handshaking among the old soldiers and their wives and daughters. At noon the crowd was invited to "fall to" and partake of the bountiful dinner which consisted of everything the country afforded in the eating line. It is needless to say that the visitors showed their appreciation of the good spread by actions which spoke louder than words.

After dinner the crowd gathered around the speakers stand and were entertained for a time by some good patriotic speeches. The principal speakers were Prof. George Colvin and Attorneys W. F. Grigsby and Marshal Duncan, of Springfield. Their remarks were well chosen for the occasion and were well received. Squire Nimrod Hendren was master of ceremonies which position he filled with distinction and succeeded in making everybody feel at home.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the Heart, and one to the Kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must falter. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain Sold by Red Cross Drug Store.

"At twiligh[illegible] saving station o[illegible] noises were heard [illegible] signal shots from some di[illegible] A boat was launched and [illegible] all possible energy to the place [illegible] which the sounds seemed to have come, but it returned without having heard or seen anything further. Yet the seaman who had been left behind on guard declared solemnly that in the meantime he had heard near shore unmistakable cries for help from drowning persons. The bluejackets themselves are most inclined to regard the whole matter as supernatural and the voices as spectral. Scientists say that it is possible, however, that such sounds may be audible in remarkable distinctness where there is a high coast, though they may come from a great distance, especially when persons there are placed accidentally so that behind them rises a wall which receives the sound and throws it back.

On some coasts that are often visited by fogs a legend of so called "fog shots" has acquired vogue. These are said to have their origin, for some reason not yet fathomed, within the masses of fog. Acoustic phenomena are found of such a strange kind that the investigation of them may be said to be still very far from conclusive. The most inexplicable secret lies perhaps not in the occurrence of sounds, the origin of which may be reached only with great difficulty, but in their disappearance and in absolute silence when audible noises should be expected. Many a ship has been wrecked because its signals of distress, loud and uninterrupted, have remained inaudible, although only a very short distance from the coast.

But, again, it happens that in such an instance the very same signals become audible at a far greater distance, where they provoke great excitement. A remarkable example of this was produced by the firing of guns by the English fleet in the roadstead at Spithead on Feb. 1, 1901, as a token of mourning for Queen Victoria. This was not heard at all by many persons close at hand who were listening for it, while at places much farther away it was heard plainly. The direction of the wind failed to explain this aberration of the waves of sound.—Chicago News.

PEGGY'S ADVICE.

Why It Suddenly Changed From Excellent to Worthless.

It was the era of the first Quincy baby, and the attention of the entire Quincy family, consisting solely of mother and father, was directed to the proper upbringing of the infant. Books on babyhood were bought and digested. Suitable magazines were subscribed for. Friends and mothers were consulted on every point. But, to the wonder of the solicitous, Mrs. Quincy declared that the advice that did the most good was that which appeared in the morning paper, signed with the fetching name "Peggy." But the time came when even that was discarded.

"Aren't you going to read me the little lesson from the Journal for today?" asked Mr. Quincy at the breakfast table.

"I shall never read that stuff to any one any more," said the mother firmly.

"Why not? Only day before yesterday you were saying what excellent recommendations Peggy made about crying children. Why do you desert her?"

"I'll tell you, Tom," she said. "I had meant not to say a word about it, because it is so humiliating, but now you've spoken—well, I might as well confess. The paper yesterday said something I didn't quite understand, and, as I was downtown, I thought I'd just run into the office and ask Peggy what she meant. So I did. The office boy smiled when I asked for Peggy, but he took me up a lot of dirty stairs and then pointed to a door. I knocked, and a voice answered, 'Come in!'"

"Well?" queried her husband.

"Well, there isn't any Peggy! Not a woman at all, but a perfectly horrid, grinning man, smoking a cigar! He writes that advice—a man! What do you think of that, Tom?"

Mrs. Quincy paused in her indignation.

"I thought you found the advice good, as a rule," he objected.

"Tom Quincy, how could a man in a newspaper office write good advice to mothers? I am surprised! You men think you know everything!"—Youth's Companion.

One Way of Getting Out.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

We are authorized to announce B. L. Litsey as a candidate for re-election to the office of Washington county subject to the action of the Democratic party. Primary November 28, 1908. Election Nov. 1909

As was predicted in the News-Leader some time ago the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company is making strenuous efforts to buy up the crop of Washington county tobacco. Buyers representing that concern have been in the county and it is said have succeeded in buying several crops paying quite liberally therefor. The News-Leader wishes to repeat its advice to the tobacco growers and that is to turn down all buyers who are in the field this early. The loose leaf market at Springfield is a sure go and its object is to insure good prices for the to bacco crops and the farmer should wait and give it a trial. He has everything to gain and nothing to lose by waiting If after trying the loose leaf market he is not satisfied he can then negotiate with the buyers from Louisville or elsewhere. They will still be in the field and the tobacco grower this year need have no fear of not finding a buyer He will have plenty of chances to sell. The point is to "sit steady" and use good judgment

The Republicans of Washington county have the opportunity to carry the county again this year by as large a majority for the National ticket as they carried it last year for the State ticket. There is one important thing to do and that a very important one, and that is to get the full voting strength of the party to the polls on November 3rd. Every good Republican should see to it that every Republican vote in the county is cast and counted. With that assured we feel confident that old Washington will roll up a handsome majority for Taft and Sherman and for Dr, D. W. Gaddie for Representative in Congress, But every man should get to work and see to it that his neighbor is at work also,

We publish this week the regular announcement card of Judge B. L. Litsey who is a candidate, to succeed himself, for the office of County Judge. Judge Litsey has served a number of years as county judge of this county and has always filled the office with credit and in a satisfactory manner. He submits his claims to the voters at the Democratic primary to be held on November 28th.

CUNNINGHAM, DUNCAN & CO.,

Love and a Ring.

Love me little, love me long, is the conjugal rule in Japan, where they tell this story to illustrate the transitory love of the occident:

"A tourist, they say, was touring Brittany. He came to Quimper, and he found in the place public beside the river an old woman selling trinkets.

"'What is the price of this?' he asked, taking up an antique ring of silver and sapphires.

"'Is it for your wife or your sweetheart?' said the old woman.

"'For my sweetheart.'

"'Fifty francs.'

"'Fifty francs! Nonsense!' And the tourist turned angrily away.

"'Come back,' said the old woman. 'Take it for ten. You've been lying to me, though. You have no sweetheart. Had the ring been for her you'd have bought it at once without regard to its price.'

"'I will take it,' said the tourist, smiling. 'Here are the ten francs.'

"So the old woman wrapped the ring up.

"'But you haven't a wife, either,' she grumbled. 'If it had been for her you'd have beaten me down to five francs. Oh, you men!'"

WISDOM AND KNOWLEDGE.

Wisdom sits alone,
Topmost in heaven; she is its light, its God,
And in the heart of man she sits as high,
Though groveling eyes forget her oftentimes,
Seeing but this world's idols. The pure mind
Sees her forever, and in youth we come
Filled with her sainted ravishment and kneel,
Worshiping God through her sweet altar fires,
And then is knowledge good.
—Nathaniel Parker Willis.

A Shot That Recoiled.

Bishop Leonidas Polk, a Confederate general, was one day riding in the rear of the line of march. A straggler whose rough shoes had blistered his feet was sitting by the roadside when the general came up.

"What company do you belong to?" asked the general.

"The Fourteenth Louisiana," replied the straggler.

"Well, sir, you are a long way from your command."

The stranger, not knowing the general, inquired, "What company do you belong to?"

The general answered, "I am a captain in the army of the Lord."

"Well, sir," retorted the straggler, "I should say you are a long way from your command."

Not Always What They Seem.

Professor and Mrs. Hadley were on a train bound for New York, where Yale's president was to speak before a national convention. He made use of the hour and twenty minutes he spent in the train by rehearsing his speech in a low voice, using his hands to emphasize certain passages.

A kindly matron, who was sitting directly behind Mr. and Mrs. Hadley and who had been watching and listening, leaned forward and, tapping Mrs. Hadley on the shoulder, said feelingly: "You have my sincere sympathy, my poor woman. I have one just like him at home."

Making a Job of It.

Pat, who had a weakness for the wine of the country, once did a day's work for an Irish village priest and labored so nobly that when he begged for a drink at the end of it the kind man had not the heart to refuse.

"'Tis a nail in your coffin all the same, Pat," said he, as he poured out a couple of fingers.

"It is that, your riverence," said Pat, as he drained the glass, "but now that ye've the hammer in your hand, ye moight as well dhroive in another!"

Self Improvement.

Is it asked how can the laboring man find time for self culture? I answer that an earnest purpose finds time or makes it. It seizes on spare moments and turns fragments to golden account. A man who follows his calling with industry and spirit and uses his earnings economically will always have some portion of the day at command. And it is astonishing how fruitful of improvement a short season becomes when eagerly seized and faithfully used. A single hour in the day steadily given to the study of some interesting subject brings unexpected accumulations of knowledge.—William Ellery Channing.

Not the King.

Royal names for hotels are sometimes the cause of peculiar misunderstandings. An aged farmer from a remote county in Canada decided to make a visit to Toronto. It was the first time he had been at a city station, and when a hotel crier hurried to him with the interrogation, "King Edward?" the newcomer simply smiled as he answered, "No, sir—Thomas Cox of Eramosa."

Two Dear Seats.

Sarah Bernhardt while in London once dropped into a bookseller's. "I sold her quite a pile of books," said the proprietor, "and she seemed pleased. As she was going out she took hold of my pencil and asked me something in French which I did not understand. Seeing that I failed to catch her meaning, she looked about on the counters, then quick as a flash she took up a volume of one of the very best sets of Scott bound in tree calf, opened it at the very center, wrote something quickly, calmly tore out the leaf, handed it to me, smiled and went out."

The astonished bookseller looked at the leaf and discovered that Sarah had written a pass for two to her performance that evening. Magnificent, but it was not a cheap entertainment for the bookseller.

Both Helped.

Zimmerman, the eminent physician, was sent from Hanover to attend Frederick the Great in his last illness. One day the king said to him, "You have, I presume, sir, helped many a man into another world?"

This was rather a bitter pill for the doctor, but the dose he gave the king in return was a judicious mixture of truth and flattery:

"Not so many as your majesty, nor with so much honor to myself."

Blaine's Tart Retort.

When James G. Blaine was a member of the house of representatives he once had a spicy debate with another member who was doing some filibustering. The remarks exchanged grew warm, and the argument finally culminated in this remark by the irate filibuster:

"On another occasion I shall ask the gentleman from Maine to take supper with me in hell."

There was a moment's silence, and then Blaine bowed low as he replied:

"I thank the gentleman for his kindly invitation. I have had many invitations in my life, but this is the first time I have ever been asked to visit Democratic headquarters."

Two Large "Ifs."

An optimistic sort of a chap, who made the best of everything, got lost in the Maine woods with a companion on a hunting expedition. As night came on they made camp, but, although they were hungry, they had shot no game and had nothing to eat. With a perfectly serious face this fellow looked at his companion and said:

"If we only had some ham, we'd have ham and eggs, if we only had some eggs."

We Are Made For Co-operation.

Begin the morning by saying to thyself: I shall meet this day with the busybody, the ungrateful, arrogant, deceitful, envious, unsocial. All these things happen to them by reason of their ignorance of what is good and evil. But I who have seen the nature of the good, that it is beautiful, and of the bad, that it is ugly, can neither be injured by any of them—for no one can fix on me what is ugly—nor can I be angry with my neigbor nor hate him. We are made for co-operation. To act against one another, then, is contrary to nature, and it is acting against one another to be vexed and turn away.—Marcus Aurelius.

His Epitaph.

Hilary Harkness was a politician of the lowest type, and unsuccessful at that. His whole life was devoted to office seeking. He spent thirty-seven years vainly seeking a $5,000 office—hours 10 till 2—while his wife and daughter supported him by keeping a candy shop. Well, Hilary died at last. A modest shaft was put above his remains, and the executor asked the editor of his town paper to suggest an epitaph to go upon the shaft.

The editor thought a moment. Then he smiled, and, slipping a sheet of paper in his typewriter, he clicked off: "Here lies Hilary Harkness, in the only place for which he never applied."

The time and place of the next meeting will be determined later.

The dwelling house of Mr. W H. Lay, about half way between Texas and Pottsville was totally destroyed by fire last week. There was no insurance and besides losing his house Mr. Lay also lost most of his household goods. The loss will fall heavily on him as he is a poor man and quite old. He for many years carried the mail from Springfield to Pottsville.

Hon. David H. Smith, ex-Congressman from the Fourth district and Judge James P. Gregory of Louisville, made speeches at the court house here on Monday afternoon in the interest of the Democratic ticket and on the political issues of the day. It being county court day, there was a large crowd in town and the court house was well filled with men to hear the speaking. Both gentlemen are able speakers and presented their side of the case in a forcible manner. Hon. T. Scott Mayes also made a short talk in introducing Mr. Smith.

Dr. Bruner Stirs 'em Up.

One of the best and "rousingest" political speeches delivered in Springfield for a long time was that made at the court house here on Tuesday afternoon by Dr. Ben L. Bruner in the interest of the Republican ticket. Dr. Bruner is a forceful and logical speaker and has a way of making a point and driving it home that is quite impressive. He dealt for the most part in National issues and made that rather dry subject, the tariff, quite plain and interesting. He pointed out how serious to the laboring man and especially to the farmer, would be the free trade theories of Mr. Bryan if ever put into practice, He also touched up the falacies of Mr. Bryan's pet theory of guaranteed bank deposits. Dr. Bruner has been making speeches in Washington county for several years during each political campaign and he is always well received,

A Card

To the voters of Washington county.

In canvassing the county I find that some of the gentlemen opposing me for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of Washington county are industriously circulating a report that questions my record as a voter. I was very much surprised at such a question being raised as I have never missed a chance to vote for a Democratic nominee in my life. They say that I did not vote the Democratic ticket last fall when the fact is I didn't have a vote at all. Unfortunate circumstances forced me to move to Springfield September 25, too late to claim a vote. I consulted Mr. W. C. McChord, as an attorney and prominent candidate, as to my right to claim a vote in Precinct No. 1, where I came from, and he said I could not, but asked me to go there and do what I could for the nominees on election day. I did so, willingly, and do not think it is fair in my opponents to tell the people that I did not vote for the ticket last fall, unless they tell them why I did not. That was the only time I have failed to vote since I cast my first vote in 1881

Very Respectfully,
S. J. ANDERSON.

Medley - McCawley.

The marriage of Miss Alethaire Medley to Mr. W. Howell McCawley was solemnized with high nuptial mass, at nine o'clock last Saturday morning, at St. Dominic's Church, by the pastor, Rev. P. F. Hennessy. Rev. W. F. Linehan, prior of St. Rose, and Rev. Gavin, also of St. Rose, were present in their white Dominican robes, which is an unusual distinction accorded a wedding ceremony, by other than the officiating priest.

The decorations were of Southern smilax, caught with tulle, and potted plants. A white wedding bell was suspended above the altar under which the bride and groom stood during the ceremony.

The ushers were Mr. Will Medley, brother of the bride, Mr. Hefner Rubel, of Lebanon, Mr. Will Wharton and Wathen Simms.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Ben Medley. while Mendelssohn's beautiful march was played. The bride was regal in a handsome gown of white satin made Directoire style with tucked chiffon yoke and long sleeves, and wore a white lace Directoire hat with white plumes. She carried a large bouquet of white chrisanthemums tied with tulle.

At the altar, the bride was met by the groom with his attendant, Mr. Frank McCawley. The bridal couple stood under the wedding bell with the two attendants, and ushers grouped on each side, with the officiating priest and the two visiting priests facing the audience while the ceremony was performed.

A special musical program was an enjoyable feature for the audience. The solo parts of the mass were sung by Miss Willa Knott in her usual acceptable and entertaining voice. Miss Mary Haydon sang an "Au Maria" in a voice that never fails to please her hearers, and on this occassion the most hypercritical hearer would have failed to find a flaw in the voice or in the rendition of the selection. Miss Isabel Medley, the youngest sister of the bride, sang an "Au Marie," and her singing was a happy surprise to many who heard her for the first time. Miss Medley has a voice of unusual promise.

After the ceremony was performed the bridal couple, the attendants and ushers, and the immediate relatives of the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and George Medley, where a wedding breakfast was served

Mr. and Mrs. McCawley left by way of Lebanon for an extended bridal trip.

The presents were numerous and elegant consisting of silver, cut-glass, hand-painted china, linens and numerous other articles. The gift of the brothers of the bride was a chest of solid silver.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. I. R. McCawley Miss Myrtle McCawley, Messrs. Herbert and Frank McCawley, mother, sister and brothers, respectively of the groom, and Miss Adelaide Kelly, of Louisville, Mr. A. B. Blanford, St. Joseph, Daviess county, Mrs. Wm. Abell, Miss Louise Wathen, Mrs. E. M. Roney, Misses Roney, Mr. William Roney, Miss Katherine Spaulding, Heffernan Rubel and Frank Peters, of Lebanon, Misses Angela and Mary Agnes Mudd, of Chicago, Ills., Mrs. T. A. Medley, B. F. and William Medley, of Owensboro.

Good Advice.

The Freeman published at Lebanon and edited by Rev. H. C. Freeman, the well known colored minister, has the following about Hon. W. O. Bradley:

Our good and noble friend, Senator W. O. Bradley, is the staunchest and best friend the Negro has in Kentucky to-day, who stands out in open defiance of his rights as he sees the right. He has been with us when he was not seeking office, and to-day he appeals to us to stick by him and assist him in carrying and lodging Kentucky in the Republican column for Taft and Sherman. Will you heed the call? We hope and trust that there will not be one Negro in Kentucky who will be so ungrateful as to go against the advice of a true friend like Senator W. O. Bradley.

Rheumatism Recipe.

Directions to Prepare Simple, Yet Remarkable Home Mixture.

A well known authority on rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmlefs and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

WORLD BLAMES BRYAN.

Says He Must Have Been Familiar With Haskell's Record.

[From the New York World, Sept. 27.]

The main fault to be found with Governor Haskell's resignation as treasurer of the Democratic national committee is that it came a week too late.

Haskell should have been forced out at once, and Mr. Bryan should never have challenged Mr. Roosevelt to prove the Hearst charges or any other charges against the Oklahoma governor. Mr. Bryan must have known Haskell's record when he assumed personal responsibility for the man. If he did not it was because he had chosen to be "a fugitive from information." It was inevitable that the moment Mr. Roosevelt succeeded in making an issue of Haskell's record the Democratic organization would be compelled to drop him. The attempt to defend him was a sorry political blunder.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. TRIBUTE TO MR. TAFT

How China Apologized For the American Boycott.

JUDGE SIGNALLY HONORED.

Recognition of His Efforts to Bring About Remission of Boxer Indemnity. National Friendship Reaffirmed and Commercial Amity Restored.

It was through Mr. Taft, when he was in Shanghai last fall, that the Chinese apologized for the American boycott that was instituted in the kingdom a few years ago and expressed their appreciation of the remission by our government of the indemnity granted because of the Boxer rebellion. When it became known that Mr. Taft was coming to Shanghai representatives of all the Chinese guilds in the city met and arranged to give him a suitable reception. The guilds in China control every branch of commercial activity and united form in every city and community a thoroughly representative body. Each of the scores of guilds in Shanghai took part in the demonstration to Mr. Taft. For the purpose the beautiful Yuyuen gardens in Bubbling Well road were obtained. Governmental cognizance of the greeting to Mr. Taft was through the vicarious participation of Tuan Fang, viceroy of the Liangkiang province, in which Shanghai is. The viceroy ordered his representative, the taotai tong, to spare no expense in arranging a suitable reception for Mr Taft and to present the bills to him.

Americans long resident in Shanghai agreed that no such signal honors had ever been paid to another foreigner by the Chinese. A heavy rainfall, which began the previous night, threatened to mar or wholly prevent the garden party. At great cost and an expenditure of labor the committee completely roofed over with canvas a good share of the gardens, including long walks and paths, so that Mr. Taft and the other guests were enabled to move about freely, fully protected from the storm.

All of the speakers referred to the obligations under which China had been laid by the remission of the Boxer indemnity and the contributions made by Americans for the relief of victims of the recent famine in China. Mr. Taft was cheered and applauded for several minutes when he said:

"When I was here a little more than two years ago there was just a little bit of mist, a little bit of fog, in the clear sunshine of our friendship. But we gave assurances at that time which I am glad to say have been carried out on the one hand, and on the other there is every evidence that the mist has cleared away. The boycott is a thing of the past. It is a closed episode."

Two young Chinese ladies bore forward a massive silver bowl and presented it to Mr. Taft as a memento of his visit. The bowl, which was a rare specimen of Chinese silver work, was inscribed, "Presented to the Honorable William H. Taft, Secretary of War of the United States of America, as a Memento of the Garden Party Given In His Honor by the Chinese Residents of Shanghai."

Copious comments were printed by the eastern press upon the reception by the Chinese to Mr. Taft and its significance as a tribute to the man and as a renewal of the old time bonds of amity between the nations.

"OLD BILL TAFT."

By REV. HY J. BOATMAN.

[Tune: "America."]

For leader strong and great
To man the ship of state,
Both fore and aft;
To guide where breakers roar,
To safely land our store,
To quiet all uproar,
There's old Bill Taft.

To White House, there to stay
And Bryan send away
Upon a raft;
To do, as Teddy did,
What all our people bid,
For man upon the lid,
There's old Bill Taft.

To do what's good and just,
Strike down the evil trust
And all of graft;
To keep our money pure
And plenty, too, and sure,
The hard times' only cure,
There's old Bill Taft.

Reform his flag unfurls,
Against all evils hurls
Unerring shaft.
Then let our trumpets blare,
"He's always on the square,
At home and everywhere,
Is old Bill Taft!"

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7, 1908.

To the Officers and Members United Mine Workers of America:

Greeting—We are in the midst of a political campaign. Every method known to political managers will be used to secure votes for their respective candidates. This is especially true in the attempt to obtain expressions from those holding official positions in labor unions.

I am in receipt of hundreds of letters from men of all shades of political beliefs and from all parts of the United States asking for my opinion of the different candidates or my views upon the issues involved in the political campaign.

The United Mine Workers did not elect me international president to influence your political preferences or how you should cast your vote on election day. You have elected me to direct the affairs of the United Mine Workers. The success of the United Mine Workers and the welfare of its members have and will receive my first and only consideration as long as I have the honor of representing you.

I am not responsible for interviews appearing in the newspapers, alleged to be from me, that I favor any particular candidate. I have declined to express or to give any statement politically for or against any candidate or issue, nor do I intend to do so. This letter will be my answer to all who ask me for any advice along political lines.

I have the honor to represent an organization of nearly 300,000 members of every known nationality and different political views. We have among our members Prohibitionists, Populists, Independents, Socialists, Democrats and Republicans. From what I know of our members you are fully competent to decide for yourselves how you will vote on election day.

All my time is required to look after the interests of the United Mine Workers. Those interested in the subject matter of this letter will please refrain from writing me in connection with politics if they hope to get an answer.

The United Mine Workers as an organization has been in existence for many years before this political campaign, and we all wish that it may live many years after the present campaign has passed into history and until every wrong of which the miner complains is honorably adjusted. My conviction is that the future safety of the nation depends very largely upon our people heeding that constitutional prohibition. Secretary Root on Tariff Wars.

Threatened tariff wars between the United States and Germany and the United States and France have been averted by commercial agreements under the power conferred upon the president in the third section of the Dingley tariff act.

Perhaps the Bryan managers display such fondness for campaign rainbows because they dream of the traditional pots of gold at their end.

It is possible to concede that after Mr. Gompers' speeches in Texas that state may go Democratic.

TAFT IN THE ISLANDS

Why McKinley Sent the Judge to the Philippines.

STRONG, HONEST AND TACTFUL

Relinquished Certainty of Elevation to Supreme Bench at Call of Duty, Proved His Ability as a Nation Builder—A Real Altruist.

In the beginning of our occupation of the Philippines the problems there were military. Nothing of civil functions could be essayed until the rebellion had been put down. In the midst of this the first Philippine commission was sent out to look over the situation "as bearers of the blessings of a liberating rather than a conquering nation," as President McKinley wrote. The commissioners decided that it was a bad mess.

Mr. McKinley was advised to try to do nothing by civil power, but to give a military governor full sway. This would have been a fatal error. Any continuance of the military government beyond the time when its stern restrictions were required to induce peace and maintain it would still further have jeopardized the trust of the natives in our good faith. And it had already been so strained that it would stand no more tension.

The people at home, too, were growing thoroughly out of conceit with "the little brown brother." Our appetite had become sated of military conquest. Too many long, narrow boxes were shipped over sea and land for interment in village churchyards, too many mothers mourned sons, done to death by bullets or bolo, to support general conviction in the doctrine of expansion. We thought we had no prototype of Cromer, no giants of colonial administration upon whom Mr. McKinley might call to "lay the foundations of a superior civilization, with specific reference to the needs of the people to be governed and with definite reference to the welfare of the islands, both material and moral," as he had put it.

There was dearth of men wholly in harmony with the president's conception of what our national duty to the Filipinos comprised, who would constantly bear in mind that it was liberty they wanted, liberty that they should have, as Mr. McKinley had promised, pledging our faith as a nation—liberty, as he wrote, "of the whole Filipino people and not of a decimal fraction of them, who through the leadership of education and property have acquired a domination over the great mass."

Mr. Taft had not been thought of. If his sentiments on the Philippine question was known it was patent that he was neither a believer in Mr. McKinley's policy nor in our ethical right to be in the islands. Said the president one day to the then secretary of state, William R. Day, "I want a man who is strong, honest and tactful, a man of education and executive ability, a man who is fearless, but conservative, who will get along with the army people."

"Judge Taft fills the bill if he will take the job," said Mr. Day in a stroke of inspirational genius. They sent for Judge Taft, who was then on the supreme court bench, and told him what was wanted. He shook his head.

"I cannot be of use to you there, Mr President," he answered. "I didn't want to take the Philippines. It was a mistake." The president regarded him musingly for a moment, then, "Nor did I want to take them," said he. "I had to. There was nothing else to do. We must build a new nation out there. I want you to help us."

Secretary of War Root added his persuasions. He showed both sides of the medal to Judge Taft. Perhaps he was motived more shrewdly than he affected, for he descanted upon the difficulties of the task compared with the congenial and relatively easy work that Judge Taft had upon the bench with the almost ultimate certainty of being elevated to the supreme court. He must forego all this, said Mr. Root.

But what a chance offered in the Philippines to do, to create, to disprove the infallability of some of England's pet theories of colonization, to bring into being a nation. Such arguments turned the tide. Judge Taft accepted one of those duties "which," to quote him, "is an entirety and not fulfilled until it is entirely fulfilled."

As he took ship, and always afterward, there was in his mind the concluding paragraph of the instructions given him by the president:

"A high and sacred obligation rests upon the government of the United States to give protection for property and life, civil and religious freedom and wise, firm and unselfish guidance in the paths of peace and prosperity to all the peoples of the Philippine Islands. I charge this commission to labor for the full performance of this obligation, which concerns the honor and conscience of their country, in the firm hope that through their labors all the people in the Philippines may come to look back with gratitude to the day when God gave victory to the American arms at Manila and set their land under the sovereignty and the protection of the people of the United States."

Altruistic, perhaps, but Mr. Taft is an altruist. It needed an altruist to compass the requirements specified in the quotation to the letter and pave the way for the fulfillment of Mr. McKinley's "firm hope," as Mr. Taft has done.

MR. TAFT ON BANK GUARANTY.

Explodes Bryan's Pet Proposition In Speech at Minneapolis, Sept. 26.

My information with respect to the Oklahoma system is that it is developing as might be expected. I have a correspondent who is intimately acquainted with the conditions in Oklahoma. In a letter of Sept. 22, 1908, in speaking of the effect of the guaranty of deposit law, he uses the following language:

"Conditions in Oklahoma are growing worse than was expected on account of the recent decision there whereby it was decided that the bank commissioner has no right to refuse to grant a charter to parties proposing to organize a bank. As an instance, in a town of less than 500 people as many as four banks have been organized. Application is now in for the organization of a fourth bank in one town of only 470 population.

"Men whose past record proved them to be incompetent are engaging in the banking business and getting in control of banking institutions. I have knowledge of one instance where a man was engaged in business some years ago and failed. He went to another town and engaged in the same line of business in his wife's name, but conducted her affairs in such an unbusinesslike way that she failed. Some time afterward he went to Oklahoma territory and started a small state bank, but found he could not succeed and sold to other parties and left the territory. A few months ago, however, he returned and started another state bank, advertising that the depositors are secured under the state guaranty law, and after sixty days' operation he now has over $100,000 deposits. I have it from the best authority that he now proposes to start fifteen new state banks throughout the state, two of which have already been organized and one now doing business."

Vainly tryin';
Thrice before us like a chorus,
Jackass chorus most uproarious,
Tried to floor us.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Far too high your kite's a-flyin'—
Wind's allayin'.
Cease to mouth us, cease to mouth us,
Jackass discords don't affright us,
Only rouse us.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Vainly cryin' like one dyin'—
Calf a-dyin'.
Once you'd give us halves for whole uns—
Silver dollars, them sixteen uns,
For our gold uns.

Billy Bryan, Billy Bryan,
Give up tryin'; quit your tryin',
Call your "cry" in.
Once you hitched the ass and monkey,
Now you'd ride that poor old donkey—

Campaigning in 1908.

[From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

The train comes whizzing down the track
And halts amid the cheers,
And on the platform at the back
The candidate appears.

And then the engine hoarsely shrieks
His words are far from plain.
And then the engine hoarsely shrieks
And drags away the train.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS.

Many Important Measures Enacted by the Majority.

The Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth congresses will go down in history as record breakers because of the large number of important measures enacted, measures having directly to do with the great business interests of the country and standing between the people and corporate greed and oppression. The Fifty-ninth congress opened a new era in American legislation, giving emphasis to the fact that the constitution is amply sufficient for all the needs of the people, safeguarding their interests and furnishing them ample means of protection. The Fifty-ninth congress was a Republican congress, and all the great measures enacted by it were Republican measures, originating with the Republicans and passed by Republican votes.

There is still much to be done to perfect the work begun by the Fifty-ninth congress. Experience has demonstrated that a Democratic congress cannot be depended upon to work out any great system of reform. No reform in administration or in legislation has ever come about under a Democratic regime. As at present constituted the Democratic party is made up of too many isms to be safe in handling great questions of political economy. Two great questions will soon come up for legislation—a revision of the tariff and a remodeling of our currency system. Twice since 1880 the Democrats have attempted tariff legislation, and twice the business of the country was brought to the verge of ruin and hundreds of thousands of workingmen were thrown out of employment. Twice within the last thirty years the Democratic party has set up its standard of monetary legislation. First it declared in favor of putting the printing presses to work in manufacturing greenbacks without limit and, second, by declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. No evidence has been furnished that the party has recanted from its stand for fiat money. Is it safe to trust the party now?

The Republicans will revise the tariff, and they will revise it so that no American workingman shall suffer loss of wages or pay more to fill his dinner pail.

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.
